PASSMORES Academy head Vic Goddard congratulates teacher Jules Ruddick after he and a team of staff and students completed their Lupus Five fundraising challenge on Monday.

A large crowd gathered at the school to welcome the team as they arrived back in Harlow at the end of their gruelling five-day challenge.

"What Jules has achieved is just amazing," said Mr Goddard. "Although he is a lunatic he is an inspirational lunatic who we are privileged to have at Passmores."

TRAVELLERS STAY ON COMMON

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

TRAVELLERS trespassing on Latton Common have been granted leave to appeal against an eviction order granted to landowners Harlow Council.

The group set up their illegal camp 10 days ago after being forced to move on from a site near the emergency helipad at Netteswell Plantation by police.

According to Harlow Council, they gained access to the common by smashing through a padlocked gate.

Following unsuccessful attempts to persuade the group to leave, the authority started legal proceedings which culminated in a hearing at Chelmsford County Court on Friday.

But although the judge upheld the authority's application for possession of the land – the first step in the eviction process – he also gave the travellers seven days to appeal against the terms of the order.

This means that the council must now wait until tomorrow (Friday) to see if the travellers, who were not represented at the hearing, make contact with the court before making any attempt to forcibly evict the group with help from police.

Councillor Emma Toal, portfolio holder for youth and citizenship, said the authority's hands were tied by the legal process.

CAMP SITE: The travellers were still on Latton Common yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon

"We know that residents want to see this situation resolved sooner but there is a legal process we have to follow," she said.

"This is about protecting the town's green spaces and upholding the law. We will have to see what happens but the council and the police will continue to talk to the travellers and monitor the encampment."

Cllr Toal also warned local businesses and private landowners to secure their property to prevent the group from setting up camp elsewhere in the town following their eventual eviction.

"We are taking steps to protect other land and we are encouraging private landowners and businesses to ensure that their property is also secure," she added.

Police appeal for witnesses after 'abduction' claim

DETECTIVES have launched an investigation into claims that a woman was abducted near Harlow Police Station before being driven to London and raped.

Police were contacted shortly after 1pm on Tuesday following reports the woman had been bundled into a car near the police station in South Gate at around 9am. It is alleged she was then taken to east London where she was raped by her abductors.

The woman is currently being interviewed by the Metropolitan Police who have set up a joint investigation with Essex Police.

Part of the street between the police station and the Water Gardens shopping complex has been cordoned off for forensic examination.

An Essex Police spokesperson said: "We are investigating reports of an abduction and want to hear from anyone who might have seen a woman being forced into a vehicle in the vicinity of South Gate or round the corner in Crown Gate.

"Anyone who saw anything suspicious should contact our sexual offences investigation team on 101."

Yesterday (Wednesday) the mother of the woman contacted the Star.

She said her daughter had been through a "horrific ordeal" and urged anyone with information to contact then police. "I want to warn others, particularly young girls, about going out on their own to stop this from happening again," she said.

Pet dog trampled by tethered horse

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HEARTBROKEN dog owner is warning Harlow residents to take extra care when walking their pets after her dog was trampled to death by a horse tethered on Lutton Common.

Karen Jukes (52) was walking her two Jack Russells – 14-year-old Trixie and 12-year-old Sashie – along their usual route across the common last Tuesday when the incident happened.

"I was walking really slowly on the pathway with my two dogs trotting behind me like we always do," said Karen, of Carters Mead. "They are both getting old and Trixie was a bit deaf and blind so I was only a few paces in front of her.

"Then all of a sudden and without any kind of provocation this horse reared up and trampled my little Trixie. I screamed and hit out at the horse and scooped Trixie up.

"By this point I was absolutely hysterical. I rushed her back to the car and then to the vet but the damage had already been done."

X-rays confirmed that Trixie's leg and pelvis had been shattered upon impact. But vets ruled out operating because of her age, leaving Karen with no choice but to have her beloved pet put to sleep.

"Trixie was a beautiful dog and this has been hugely upsetting for all the family," she said. "Those horses are a danger to anyone or anything walking through that common. They are wild and unpredictable and yet they are tethered so close to the pathways.

"My dogs didn't bark or aggravate the horse in any way and yet it just flipped and went for them. What if that had been a child?"

When Karen reported the incident to Harlow Council, which owns the land on Lutton Common and charges horse owners tethering fees, she was told she should have had Trixie on a lead.

"If I'd done that it would have made things worse," she said. "The lead would have only wound around the horse's leg and I would probably have ended up getting injured myself."

But councillor Emma Toal, Harlow

Council's portfolio holder for youth and citizenship, suggested the incident could have been prevented if Trixie had been on a leash.

"We understand how distressing it is to lose a pet in this way," she said, "but we would remind people that they should keep their dogs close to them – by using a lead if necessary – in areas where there are other animals.

"Animals that are startled can behave in unpredictable ways and harm themselves or other animals.

"However, council rangers or officers are willing to meet with the dog owner and to visit the site to examine where and how the incident happened."

Byrne's night gives voters the chance to voice their views on welfare reform

VOTERS were invited to play a part in shaping Labour's welfare policy when shadow work and pensions secretary Liam Byrne MP paid a visit to his hometown of Harlow.

The former Burnt Mill School pupil, who served as Chief Secretary to the Treasury during Gordon Brown's reign as Prime Minister, held an informal question and answer session with members of the public at Harlow Study Centre in Waterhouse Moor.

Mr Byrne, the son of former Harlow Council general manager Dermot Byrne, was joined by Labour's prospective parliamentary candidate for Harlow Suzy Stride as he listened to the views of local residents and asked how the Government's welfare reforms had affected them.

"It's 70 years since the Beveridge Report set out the makings of the welfare state and since then Britain has changed dramatically," he told the Star. "We need a benefits system fit for the 21st century, one that works for working people and to do this it is vital for us to hear the views and experiences of local people.

"It was interesting and useful to hear the experiences of people in Harlow, particularly the challenges facing disabled people who want to live as independently as possible and the support working families need to say for the future and build assets.

"Experiences and ideas like those I heard in Harlow will help to shape Labour's welfare policy."

Ms Stride added: "It was great to have Liam in Harlow and interesting to hear local people's views on welfare reform.

"It's crucial to have a benefits system that supports people but also does not trap people but instead acts as a springboard for people to get back into work."

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A STROLL along the river is about to turn into one of the toughest endurance tests for a group of people from Harlow.

Later this month the team of 12 – which includes Mike Beatty, Louise Burnham, Pete Beatty, Jim Murphy, Michael Adams, Sophie Reeves, Lewin Ward, Gary Stanley, Helen Clare, Kelly Burey, Sy Franklin and Danielle Neech – will be attempting to walk 100km along the banks of the River Thames from Fulham Palace to Henley-on-Thames in 24 hours.

They are hoping to raise £15,000 for the Nothing & Everything campaign set up by 41-year-old Mike in 2010. Its aim is to hit a £100,000 fundraising target through taking on a number of extreme challenges over five years.

“With every new challenge the Nothing & Everything campaign raises funds for two set charities – Edukid, which supports vulnerable children in Africa and Asia, and the Amy Wallace Foundation Trust, which supports terminally ill children,” said Mike, of Challinor, Harlow.

“For the Thames Path Challenge we have decided as a group to also raise money for the Motor Neurone Disease Association as it held the most personal relevance.”

So far the team, who held a special fun day last week, has raised almost £5,000 – but Mike said he expected the total to rise as they got closer to tackling the walk.

“In my experience from other events, sponsorship usually comes in right at the end,” he said. “£5,000 is a great start so hopefully we will be close to hitting our target by the time we’ve completed the challenge – which I am confident we will.

Fundraisers set for Thames trek

“We have been training regularly as a group and everyone is feeling really good about it now.”

He added: “If there is anything I have learned since setting up Nothing & Everything and taking on challenges like climbing Mount Kilimanjaro, it’s that it is all about understanding your own mind and visualising success.

“That was always one of the points of this whole campaign. As well as raising money for great causes, we want to encourage people to do things they didn’t think was possible before and accomplish personal goals. It is quite incredible what can be achieved if you set your mind to it.”

The Nothing & Everything campaign is always looking for more people to get on board with their own challenges.

For more information or to sponsor the Thames Path Challenge group, visit www.nothingandeverything.co.uk.

Starring role for night sky walkers

HUNDREDS of fundraisers are expected to take part in a night walk tomorrow (Friday) in support of St Clare Hospice.

The five-mile St Clare Starlight Walk, which sets off from Bishop’s Stortford Rugby Club at 8pm, is an event to remember those cared for at the Hastingwood hospice while raising money to fund its services.

Walkers are encouraged to turn up in fancy dress with a prize awarded for the best. They will then follow a route around the town before ending back at the club where a hog roast and other refreshments will be available.

Anyone wanting to take part can sign up on the night for a £20 entry fee which includes a complimentary goody bag and T-shirt.

For more information, visit the website at www.stclarehospice.org.uk/starlightwalk.html or call (01279) 773750.

Help needed to sell charity cards

SUMMER may have only just ended but the jingle bells are already ringing as a national charity seeks volunteers to run their Christmas card shop in Harlow.

Every year Cards for Good Causes sells greetings cards on behalf of national and local charitable groups to help them top up funds.

The group will be setting up shop in Harlow Central Library again this year, but is looking for people willing to help.

“Last year Cards for Good Causes helped more than 300 charities across the country,” said area organiser Mary Cronin.

“We really rely on our volunteers. There’s always a great atmosphere and everyone really enjoys helping.”

The Harlow shop will be open from November 1 until December 15, offering a selection of cards from more than 25 different charities including Age UK, the British Heart Foundation and the NSPCC.

If you can spare a few hours or would like to find out more, contact Mary on (01255) 831262.

Hospice lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, September 14 is ticket holder 389922, who lives in Epping.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 256199, who lives in Stansted Mountfitchet.

Lions’ bottle scheme can save time ... and lives

A POTENTIALLY life-saving health scheme run by a Harlow social club has been extended to help more people in the community.

Harlow Lions Club’s ‘message in a bottle’ initiative aims to save valuable time in the event of an emergency by storing people’s full medical details in one, easily accessible place.

The group has been running the scheme for three years and is now extending it by beginning bottle distribution to local health services.

LIFE-SAVER: Pictured presenting the first consignment of bottles to Princess Alexandra Hospital representatives Maria Ireland and Sara Tasker is Harlow Lions Club member Peter Canale

Those who take up the initiative, which is aimed primarily at vulnerable members of the community but open to anyone, will be given a free kit containing a plastic bottle, information form and stickers.

The recipient is encouraged to fill out vital medical details on the form, place it in the bottle and put the container in the fridge. A sticker is then placed on the outside of the fridge to indicate to members of the emergency services, who are aware of the scheme, that it contains potentially life-saving information.

“These bottles mean that essential information is available very quickly for doctors or nurses dealing with a patient, saving vital time,” said Harlow Lions secretary Ronni Ayres.

“We were approached on behalf of the area health committee to see if we would be prepared to extend our scheme by supplying these kits to various medical sites which we happily agreed to.”

She added: “All of this is only possible due to ongoing generous response to our fundraising by the people of Harlow and surrounding districts who we’d like to thank.”

Sharing the load cuts costs without sacrificing quality

COUNCIL MATTERS

By Harlow Council leader Mark Wilkinson

At Harlow Council we are always looking at ways to make sure we continue to operate efficiently and provide good quality services to our residents while facing cuts to our budgets.

We are not afraid to look at new ways of doing things. This includes working in partnership and sharing services with our neighbouring councils where appropriate.

A good example of this is our sharing of internal audit services - making sure our working practices are efficient and within the law - with Broxbourne Council.

An internal audit manager spends part of her week at Harlow and part at Broxbourne. This provides cost and efficiency benefits and means we can share best practice and develop systems that will work across both councils.

When introducing this approach, we took advice from Southend Council which already had a similar partnership in place with Castle Point Council.

A different sort of collaboration - between artists and the community - has resulted in Harlow Happenings, the current exhibition in the Gibberd Gallery which continues until October 4.

Do go and see it. It really shows the qualities of creativity and innovation that have marked out Harlow from its beginnings and which are now being carried forward by the town's young people.

We know that the Government's new welfare reform programme is going to hit some of our residents hard and we will do our best to point people towards advice and help with managing their money.

Please don't be tempted to use loan sharks. The council has signed up to a Government-funded Stop Loan Sharks initiative and many residents will have seen activities in the town this week to raise awareness of the dangers of using illegal money lenders. You may even have come across the figure of 'Sid the Shark'.

Murder accused appears in court

A MAN accused of murdering a 37-year-old mother-of-four has been remanded in custody following an appearance at Chelmsford Crown Court this week.

Mark Golds (45), of Copshall Close, Harlow, is charged with killing Claire Parrish at her home in Copshall Close on July 15 this year.

Although the case had been listed for a plea and case management hearing, Golds did not enter a plea during his appearance on Monday. A new hearing is now expected to take place on October 5.

Stephen Rose, representing Golds, successfully applied for further time for the defence to consider the prosecution papers.

Ms Parrish was found fatally injured after sustaining what police described as blunt force trauma to her abdomen.

Drivers pay the price for failing to use seatbelts

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MOTORISTS in Harlow are being advised to belt up after police stopped almost 200 drivers for not wearing seat belts.

A total of 396 cars, vans and lorries were stopped and checked during Operation Surround-A-Town on Monday, during which more than 40 officers carried out roadside checks and mobile patrols across the town.

The road safety crackdown formed part of Essex County Council's three-year 'No Excuse' campaign to tackle motoring offences including speeding, driving while using a mobile phone, failing to wear a seat belt or driving without insurance or valid documentation.

Sergeant Simon Wilsher, who took charge of the operation, said: "We got a lot of excuses for not wearing belts, including 'I've only just been to the shop', 'I forgot', 'I just took it off to pull in' and, strangely, 'I've got diarrhoea'."

"It was very disappointing on two counts - firstly, that so many people were stopped not wearing their seatbelts and secondly that a third of them chose to pay the £60 fixed penalty fine rather than accept the opportunity to avoid this cost by attending a 30-minute education course held locally and run by road safety officers."

"All too often we see in local media the tragic consequences, yet the quick and simple act of putting on a seatbelt

GOING NOWHERE: A car is clamped after checks revealed it had no valid tax disc or MOT really does save lives."

All vehicles stopped during the operation were escorted to designated check sites in Templefields, Southern Way, Staple Tye and the M11 roundabout at Hastingwood.

A total of 61 motorists were stopped for driving while using a mobile phone, eight vehicles were seized because the drivers were not insured and officers caught five people without valid driving licences. Thirty-two vehicles were found to have expired MoTs.

During checks of commercial vehicles at Hastingwood, four suspected illegal immigrants were found and dealt with by officers from UK Border Agency. Seven overweight vehicles were also stopped and two driver hours offences were detected.

Councillor Derrick Louis, cabinet member for highways and transportation at Essex County Council, declared the operation a "huge success".

"The Surround-A-Town event in Harlow was one of a series of overt and covert operations run as part of our 'No Excuse' campaign."

"SAT events aim to tackle motoring offences and raise awareness that there is no excuse for offences such as speeding, driving while using a mobile phone and not wearing seat belts."

"Events like the SAT in Harlow give us the opportunity to talk to drivers about the most common causes of accidents and make them aware of their driving behaviour".

Hop along for rabbit advice

YOUNG owners of pet rabbits are invited to a free workshop on caring for their animals.

Pets at Home, in Edinburgh Way, Harlow, is hosting the sessions at noon on Saturday and Sunday to teach children how to care for their bunnies after research showed many owners fed their pets the wrong diet.

"Many rabbit owners are surprised to find out that eating too many carrots and fruit are bad for their pet," said manager Steve Levitt.

"Also, a lot of people don't realise that eating iceberg lettuce can actually be life-threatening to rabbits."

"The workshops will not only teach children about the great fun and companionship rabbit ownership brings, but also about the level of care and dedication required before deciding to get a pet."

HUNDREDS of people packed out the grounds of Passmores Academy on Monday to cheer on students and teachers as they completed an epic five-day endurance challenge.

The Lupus Five team overcame fatigue, injury and a few wrong turns along the way to finish their incredible 320-mile fundraiser and raise more than £14,000 for charities supporting people suffering from the auto-immune condition.

The group of Passmores staff and pupils took it in turns to undertake cycling, rowing and running relay stints alongside challenge organiser and student engagement teacher Jules Ruddick (40) as he took on the 240-mile bike ride, 21-mile row up the River Thames and two back-to-back marathons.

Mr Ruddick, who suffers from Lupus and only went into remission a year ago, said it was "mind blowing" to have gone from being advised by doctors to take early retirement due to poor health in 2011 to completing the mammoth challenge.

"It has been absolutely mental," he told the Star. "The kids were just awesome. None of them have ever done anything like this before in their lives but they just nailed it."

"When you think that 70 per cent of them don't even own a bike and many aren't that sporty, their achievement is incredible. They were presented with an opportunity and fully embraced it."

Starting at Alder Hey Children's Hospital in Liverpool, the group cycled to Leicester on the first day. The next morning they continued on to St Thomas's Hospital in Westminster. They then joined the Great River Race up the Thames on day three and were back on dry land for day four, running from Twickenham to Waltham Abbey before finishing in Harlow.

Mr Ruddick, who sustained a serious knee injury just a few weeks before the fundraiser was due to start, said one of the hardest parts was hiding the pain from team-mates.

"I have never felt pain like it and yet it was so important to stay strong for the kids," he said. "I had problems with my knees, my back and my ankle and yet I was blessed to have such an incredible medical team. I have to say a big thank you to Mike Varney and his colleagues as without them I would never have got through it all."

"The other hardest part was seeing the kids in distress. There were tears on the way and times when they didn't think they could do it, but everyone pulled through. I couldn't be prouder."

A big lift in the final days came when Mr Ruddick was surprised by a group of colleagues who had been secretly training to join him. "My body was in pieces but it was such a lift to have other teachers, as well as the kids running alongside me," he said. "That final hour as we came into Harlow was amazing. More teachers, parents and students joined us for the last bit, whilst members of the public were cheering and people were tooting their horns.

"The whole school then came out to cheer us across the finish line. It was a feeling I'll never forget."

He added: "Although this project was about raising awareness and money for Lupus research, it also developed into a vehicle that allowed staff and students to step outside their comfort zone and conquer their demons. "We all pulled together to show how team work, perseverance and determination can pay off."

Passmores headteacher Vic Goddard said he "couldn't be prouder" of his school.

"What they have achieved over these last few months, and particularly this last week, is unbelievable," he said. "The incredible hard work of staff gave our students this opportunity to do something life changing that they will proudly look back on forever."

He added: "What Jules has achieved is just amazing. Although he is a lunatic he is an inspirational lunatic who we are privileged to have at Passmores."

SIR, The 2012 Olympic Games were an unprecedented success story, bringing a nation together and inspiring a generation of youngsters.

However, will Harlow Council give these youngsters the opportunity to follow in the footsteps of their sporting heroes or simply allow the sports facilities in the town to degenerate even further?

I refer in particular to the tennis courts in the local parks such as Staple Tye, Bush Fair and Hare Street which once used to have decent tennis facilities and which sadly now appear to be virtually unplayable.

Without the use of free tennis courts in the town, parents are put in a position where they have to pay up to £15 per hour to use a tennis court at the Leisurezone or tennis club at Latton Bush.

This puts a huge financial strain on families in what is a predominantly working class town and this invariably results in children not being able to afford to play tennis at all. How is it right when you can only play tennis in Harlow if you have wealth but if, like so many families who are struggling in the current economic climate, you can't afford it then your children miss out?

How can we complain about rising crime and anti-social behaviour amongst the younger generation when we are not providing affordable sporting facilities and a positive outlet in a safe environment for them?

Of course there will always be that small element of troublemakers intent on vandalism and anti-social behaviour, but if parks are supposed to be safe places for children to play and take part in sport then money needs to be spent now in order to get these facilities up to standard. These facilities then need to be maintained and looked after, including securely locking them up at night and regular park patrols by the safer neighbourhood police to ensure the parks can be used by families without fear of intimidation.

Alternatively, they can just be left to degenerate further and be unsafe, intimidating places where hooded youths congregate in large numbers without any real purpose.

Andy Murray's recent successes will have no doubt inspired a lot of children, so come on Harlow Council. It's time to step up to the challenge in this Olympic year and provide decent affordable sporting facilities in the town for the young generation.

Threat to green fields around town came from within Harlow

SIR, Graham Butcher is wrong to accuse Hertfordshire County Council of pushing to build on the green fields north of Harlow (Letters, September 13). It, along with East Herts Council and our campaign, argued vehemently against these proposals at the examination in public into the East of England Plan.

The independent planning inspector agreed to remove the proposal, only for the last Government to overrule his decision and insist Harlow North remain in the plan. Only when the East of England Plan is abolished this autumn will East Herts be free to make its own planning decisions.

We were greatly encouraged when Mark Prisk, the new Housing Minister, last week reiterated his opposition to Harlow North, describing it as unsustainable.

It was Harlow Council that was arguing for a housing-led expansion of the town, hoping it would somehow deliver infrastructure improvements. Clearly this was and is misguided as the current Government has now signalled its intention to allow developers to build thousands of houses with much smaller contributions to affordable housing and major infrastructure.

Cost of a court means many children miss out

THIS week's reader's photo of the sun setting over Harlow Common was taken by Hannah Welnock.

"The photo was taken on Saturday, September 8 as my friend and I walked through Harlow Common to a restaurant," writes Hannah, of Felmongers, Harlow.

"As we were walking we noticed the amazing sunset and I just happened to have my camera in my bag."

Why can't vital support services return to Leah Manning Centre?

SIR, May I, through your pages, try to find out about the future of the Leah Manning Centre?

It was an ideal location with perfect access and toilets for the disabled for vital physiotherapy sessions for people with Parkinson's Disease, COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease), those recovering from serious surgery and, as in my case, returning from a long period of intensive care.

These sessions either supported folk with long-term illness or took them from being poorly but fit enough to discharge from hospital until they were well on the way to independent health.

In a reorganisation, the whole physiotherapy group moved from the Leah Manning Centre to the totally unsuitable Latton Bush Centre where the courses were discontinued due to health and safety. This leaves very sick people with no support and requiring long-term help from some other part of the NHS.

Although this cut may save money for the group responsible, it is a drain on other NHS budgets and to patients, who now remain with a poorer quality of life.

The question I would like answered is why can't this service return to the Leah Manning Centre?

Probably only a very few old folk will remember the huge contribution Leah Manning made to the birth of Harlow New Town. The loss of this much-used facility which bears her name, and the loss of the support it provides to many vulnerable people, would be disrespectful and tragic.

not as big in the UK yet. To believe that a local convenience store will still flourish under the benevolent eye of this German monolith is ridiculous; they will be smashed to extinction.

Aldi buys massive volumes across the world, crushing their suppliers' margins and selling at a price which destroys local small competition. Prices then normalise and profits flow.

It is concerning that the decision to approve the Aldi development was made with such a poor grasp of local economics.

To further claim that convenience stores staple is cigarettes demonstrates a further lack of understanding. A packet of B&H gold gleans the retailer about 30p profit; to pay the council tax on an average small convenience store, the retailer would have to sell approximately 27,500 packets. Not much of a staple.

I appreciate that the approval of the Aldi development was probably unstoppable, but to claim it is welcomed and beneficial to all is nonsense.

Cuts to tax benefits are an assault on the poor

SIR, Harlow TUC has followed with interest the recent letters from councillor Mike Danvers and John Wake regarding cuts to Council Tax Benefit, leading us to conclude these cuts are just another attack on the poor so that the Tories can continue deflecting attention and responsibility from their banker paymasters.

The effects of this benefit change is spelt out in a report published on May 31 by the Institute of Fiscal Studies, which said: "Since 85 per cent CTB goes to the lower income half of households and almost half of CTB goes just to the lowest income fifth, any cuts to it are bound to hit predominantly poorer families."

The report on goes on to list some rather pernicious incentives for councils as a result of the cuts and a move to block grant payment, namely restricting the development of low-cost housing, discouraging low-income families from living in the area and discouraging the promotion and take-up of the benefit.

Restricting low-cost housing has already been demonstrated in Harlow by way of an application to develop luxury housing on the Marsh Farm council depot in the Town Park.

With recent cuts to housing benefit and looming changes to CTB, we have already seen some London boroughs seeking to move poor families to northern cities. Given that the Government has yet to decide how future increases to block payments will be determined, councils will have an incentive to limit the number of new claimants, especially as only two-thirds of those currently eligible for CTB make a claim.

The Government may have protected pensioners but this means cuts across the country of an average 16 per cent for working age claimants, although Harlow Council is expecting all claimants to pay 20 per cent. The protection of pensioners may appear altruistic on the part of the Tories, but rather it is designed to split the unity of resistance.

With roughly 63 per cent of claimants of working age in Harlow, this means almost 6,000 households will be worse off. How does this cut in income help the local economy?

Making large numbers of low-income families pay small sums of £5.12 per week is going to prove time-consuming and complex.

Reservations about the longer-term financial implications of these changes are expressed by the Institute of Fiscal Studies thus: "Giving local authorities fixed grants rather than refunding the actual cost of providing council tax support will add risk to their finances, making them more reliant on the reserves they maintain to deal with unexpected contingencies."

With changes to housing benefit, cuts to incapacity benefit, disabled people being falsely declared fit for work and over-inflation rent rises, we can expect large numbers of low-income families getting further into debt which will increase stress-related illness and anti-social behaviour.

This will lead to costly demands on the NHS and the criminal justice system, not to mention adding to family breakdowns and the costs incurred in dealing with children disturbed by upheaval.

This assault on the poor through cuts to CTB will be Cameron's poll tax. Given all the problems that cuts to CTB create, one wonders how Harlow Labour group can possibly justify being the willing executioners for the Tories.

Harlow TUC also wonders what distinguishes Labour councillors from the Tories and why working class people should continue having faith in them to protect their interests?

Craig proposes as giant illuminated heart shines from seaside landmark

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ITS illuminations are world-famous – and for one Harlow couple Blackpool Tower will forever remain a beacon of their love.

For when Craig Glasscock (26), of Carters Mead, got down on one knee to propose to long-term girlfriend Amber Sky-Watts (22), of Wellesley, during a trip to the seaside resort last week, he became the first person ever to use the renowned light show to pop the question.

And happily for pet shop worker Craig, who spent almost six months planning the stunt with help from the Blackpool tourist board, his bold proposal paid off.

"I was pretty relieved when she said yes," he told the Star. "I was a nervous wreck in the week leading up to it all."

"I'd been planning to pop the question for a while and it was one of my colleagues at work that suggested Blackpool because of the illuminations."

"I've never been there before so I contacted the people at the tourist office to find out if what I was thinking of doing was even possible."

"Everyone was really helpful and it wasn't long before I had all the plans in place. It was pretty spectacular when it came off!"

Craig's message of love was displayed inside a giant LED heart adorning the side of the 518ft-tall tower, which is lit up for sixty-six days each year as part of a festival dating back to 1912.

His ecstatic bride-to-be, a graphic designer with Harlow firm Gem Creative, said she had been moved to tears by her future husband's flamboyant proposal.

"I didn't even know we were going to Blackpool until the night before so this was just mental," she said.

"We were looking up taking photos of the tower when I saw this message coming across. I just burst into tears!"

"I still can't believe he arranged to do this; I didn't expect it to happen at all."

Craig and Amber stayed at Blackpool Pleasure Beach's Big Blue Hotel during their visit. Staff were so delighted with their news they gave the happy couple a complimentary bottle of champagne.

They were also treated to a 'Big Ticket' giving them free entry to attractions including The Blackpool Tower, Madame Tussaud's and the Sealife Centre.

According to Craig, the couple had such a memorable trip they are even thinking of tying the knot in the seaside resort.

"We will always remember Blackpool Illuminations," he added. "I certainly wouldn't rule out getting married here!"

ARE you one of the smiling youngsters in this photograph of the cast of Tany's Dell School's Christmas play of 1952?

If you are, then perhaps you could shed some more light on the production's title and storyline.

Keith Davis, of North Grove, sent in the picture after it was passed to him by his twin sister, who appears in the photo.

"She emailed me this photo although I am not in it because I was ill," he writes. "My sister is third from the right and I can put names to a few of the others – Olivia Reason is on the front row next to the boy who I think is Andrew Croft; second row fourth from the left is Christine Jones, and the lower row of boys includes Raymond Budd, John Collins and Alan Blake.

"I recognise a lot more of the faces but cannot remember any more names I'm afraid."

Mr Davis said his teacher for most of the time had been Mr Dunn, the father of Nostalgia reader Maggie Beensen who got in touch a few weeks ago. Her recollections of her time at the primary school also jogged some memories for Churchfield resident Marilyn Burnett.

"I read the article about Tany's Dell from Maggie," she writes. "I was a pupil there from 1956 and remember Mr Dunn, although he never taught me.

"The New Zealand teacher she referred to and who performed the haka to the school was Mr Dale who I remember vividly. He was certainly a character who made our lessons a lot of fun and taught us a lot about his native country.

"The song I particularly remember he taught us was Pokarekare Ana, which was a love song from NZ. I do actually remember most of the words, though probably not the pronunciation, and the tune.

"I also remember the then headmistress Miss Clarke – pictured above with Mr Dunn – and getting the cane, along with two other friends – who I won't mention but they know who they are – for piggy-backing in the playground!"

Marilyn added: "Other than that I had really fond memories of my time at Tany's Dell and both my daughters, now aged 33 and 30, also attended there."

REGULAR readers of the Star will probably have seen last week's story about the Prime Minister praising the hard work of staff and students at Harlow College.

But Mag Barrett sent in this booklet of recollections compiled and edited by Joe Barrett shortly after the former Harlow Technical College 'closed' in 1984.

"When it closed it had provided for the evolving, changing needs of our growing town, with its varied industries, for 26 years," she writes.

"Although to many residents the college was usually referred to as Harlow Technical College, its formal name changed from West Essex College of FE to Harlow Tertiary College. As a tertiary school the focus was on post-16 school education."

The booklet lists some of the large variety of courses available to those studying there between 1958 and 1984. They include sheet-metal work, cabinet making, pig husbandry, care of farm machinery and radio and television servicing.

"It was not an exclusive place," said Mag. "Just ask the thousands of pensioners who revelled in Shakespeare and joined in assorted O-level and A-level subjects how much they appreciated being able to follow a large range of educational opportunities.

"High-level engineering and construction training were always prominent, whilst catering, journalism, open university and post-graduate courses all made our college a vibrant place."

It was on September 1, 1984 that the site re-opened as Harlow College – continuing much of the work the technical college started and developed.

"I hope the latest re-birth will achieve what the governors always hoped," added Mag, "a college that turns out all-round human beings and to make Harlow the top town in technical education."

Mums' club for water babes

A NEW swimming club for babies and toddlers is hoping to make a splash after launching at Harlow Fields School.

Water Babies, which opened for business last week, offers lessons for tots as young as 30 months – and has already received a good response.

Run by mums Lucy Sullivan and Hannah Yeomans, the classes are designed to make toddlers feel at ease swimming both above and below water and are based on a core philosophy of equipping parents with the skills they need to teach their children how to swim.

According to mum-of-three Hannah, a key focus for the half-hour sessions is enhancing parent/carer and baby bonding – as well as having fun!

“Our aim is to create a really fun, sociable and energetic atmosphere,” she said. “Plus it’s a great way for parents to meet other mums and dads who live in the local area.”

Best friends since school, Hannah and Lucy are fully qualified instructors and now teach over 1,000 babies to swim each week at classes throughout London and Essex.

“It’s really important to take babies swimming so they feel happy and confident in the water,” said Lucy. “Tragically,

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

drowning is still the third highest cause of accidental death among children in the UK and in most cases it’s the shock of sudden submersion that causes them to panic.

“Baby swimming teaches children vital life-saving skills such as turning onto their backs or swimming to the nearest solid object.”

Hannah previously had a career in fashion before discovering Water Babies when taking eldest son Zak, now aged six, swimming for the first time. Lucy worked as a police officer before being persuaded to go into business with her school pal.

“I always wanted to be a working mum but I also want a work/life balance so I can spend time with my family,” said Lucy, who has two young children of her own.

“Hannah and I have learnt so much over the past few years and it’s been such a rewarding experience for both of us. Swimming is a great activity and an important life skill for children to learn.”

For more information on class times and course fees, contact Water Babies on 020 8989 4821 or visit the website at www.waterbabies.co.uk.

Advice on business growth

A NEW networking group offering advice and support on business development launches at The Greenway Business Centre next Friday (September 28).

Grow Harlow, which has the backing of Harlow Chamber of Commerce and local MP Robert Halfon, will give business owners and entrepreneurs the chance to forge new contacts and share ideas for growth.

The inaugural breakfast meeting will focus on the recent BBC-commissioned Experian report into UK business growth, which found that the number of business start-ups in Harlow is increasing at a faster rate than anywhere else in the UK.

Mr Halfon will give a presentation on the report’s findings at 8.30am, followed by talks from BBC business correspondent Tim Burke and local business owners.

The group will meet monthly at the centre, which is based on Harlow Business Park in The Greenway.

Places are limited and will be allocated on a first-come-first-serve basis, with seats at next Friday’s event costing £15 (£7.50 for HDCC members and Greenway tenants).

For more information, log on to www.harlowgrowth.co.uk or call HDCC on (01279) 271104.

Shredding firm invests in cutting edge technology

A HARLOW-based firm which specialises in the disposal of confidential waste can now offer its clients unmatched security after adding to its fleet of high-tech shredding vehicles.

Less than one year after pumping £500,000 into its River Way facility, Shred Station has continued to invest in its future with the purchase of a brand new MDX-1 high-security mobile document shredding station – one of only two currently operating in Europe.

Designed and manufactured by Canadian company Shred-Tech, the state-of-the-art new vehicle will allow the firm to shred up to 3,000kg of documents per hour in accordance with the European Standard and 1,150kg in high security mode.

Chief executive Simon Franklin said: “Security is the most important part of the service we provide for our customers, which is why we are delighted to be a forerunner of this innovative solution.

“The addition of the MDX-1 vehicle will increase our secure shredding offer and the dual mode service will enable customers to choose an adequate level of security depending on their business needs.”

ELEPHANTS are among the most intelligent animals on the planet - but did you know they also have a flair for art?

Shanti, a female Asian elephant living at a zoo in the Czech Republic, has proved to be a dab trunk with a paintbrush and her paintings now fetch up to £1,000 each at auction.

To date she has created 12 mini-masterpieces and each one is being sold off to raise money to buy veterinary equipment for an elephant zoo in Sri Lanka.

Shanti was introduced to painting by her keeper Veronika Struplova, who taught her how to hold the paintbrush in her trunk.

It took just two weeks for Shanti to master the new skill, and after three months she no longer needed any encouragement to start painting.

Prague Zookeeper Tereza Paleckova told reporters: "Painting is part of enrichment programmes that keep our

Elephant with a flair for painting animals happy and healthy.

"Shanti's great motivation is, of course, food. She is very fond of sweets made from apples, bananas or strawberries."

However, Shanti has not picked up a paintbrush since moving to a new enclosure at the zoo. If she does not produce any more works of art, prints of her existing canvases have the potential of becoming limited release and could shoot up in value.

Marek Slidberski, curator at the art gallery in Prague where the paintings are on display, said: "We just have to wait for her next wave of creativity!"

Reminder to over 75s of their right to free TV licence

PENSIONERS over the age of 75 are being reminded they are entitled to a free television licence.

There are currently more than 5,600 households in Harlow with free licences. Anyone aged 75 or over is eligible for the concession, which covers all television viewing equipment in their main residence.

Applications for a free licence can be made online or by telephone.

Victoria Sykes, of TV Licensing, said: "Once you have one, TV Licensing will send a new licence once every three years, cutting down on excess paperwork," she said.

The awareness campaign is backed by charity Independent Age, which works with TV Licensing throughout the year to ensure older people and community advice groups are aware of the concession.

Chief executive Janet Smith said: "For many people television is a great source of information and fun, but for those who find it difficult to get out and about due to ill health or mobility problems, it can also be a much-needed source of company."

"Many older people live on very limited incomes so the free television licence that is available to people aged 75 and over is a really valued concession."

Anyone eligible for a free licence can apply online at www.tvlicensing.co.uk/over75 or by calling 0300 790 6073.

New system for bus pass holders

A NEW centralised system for bus pass applications will make it easier for people to apply for concessionary fares, according to Essex County Council.

From the beginning of next month, anyone applying for an older person's or disabled person's bus pass for the first time will need to submit an application form to ECC. Current holders who need to renew their passes will now automatically be sent replacements, although anyone who has moved home since last being issued with a pass must contact the authority.

The changes to the application process are expected to save the county council almost £900,000 over the next 30 months.

Application forms can be downloaded from www.canigetapass.org.uk or picked up from local libraries. Applicants can also request a paper copy by calling 0845 200 0388. Existing pass holders can inform the authority of a change in address by calling 0845 200 0388.

Dancers' flash of inspiration

SHOPPERS were treated to an impromptu street dance spectacular when local dance school Hip Hop Pop "flashmobbed" the Harvey Centre on Sunday.

More than 40 youngsters – including dancers from Harlow Ballet Association and Harlow College – appeared to break out spontaneously into specially choreographed routines from the group's 10th anniversary show at The Playhouse, which opens on Saturday.

Starting from all corners of the centre, they body-popped their way towards the central area as surprised spectators looked on.

It was all over in under 10 minutes, and as the group's grand finale reached its climax, flyers for this weekend's show were thrown into the air before the dancers dispersed.

Hip Hop Pop head tutor Jenny Bater said she was thrilled with the performance. "It all came together really well, and by the end we had a huge crowd of spectators," she said.

"The performers were brilliant and although the people watching us were clearly a little confused by what was going on, they were all really enjoying themselves."

She added: "Hopefully the flashmob will encourage a few more people to check out our 10th anniversary show this weekend. It's going to be our most spectacular yet."

The show opens for a two-night run at The Playhouse on Saturday. Performances start at 7.30pm on Saturday and 6pm on Sunday, and tickets cost £17 (£15 under-16s).

Stacey delivers gifts to children's ward at PAH

PLAY mats, mobiles and teddy bears are now putting smiles on the faces of young patients on Princess Alexandra Hospital's children's ward after local charity Kisses4kids delivered another batch of gifts.

Children's champion and charity founder Stacey Johnson visited Dolphin Ward on Friday to deliver the presents the gifts, which also included cot toys and interactive games.

The equipment was purchased for the ward following another successful summer of fundraising.

"We took over £250 worth of baby stuff as that was what the hospital told us they needed most," said Stacey (20).

"It was bought out of funds raised from events such as the Much Hadham festival and various summer carnivals. It has been a brilliant couple of months for us."

Stacey, who set up Kisses4kids shortly after being diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumour, said it was always nice to return to the hospital where she herself has received treatment. "It is always lovely to see the nurses who looked after me," she said.

"We are now preparing for all the upcoming Christmas fundraising events and will hopefully return later in the year with even more goodies!"

For more information about Kisses4kids or to offer your support, visit the group's Facebook page.

Inspection report awards school an excellent rating in every category

HAVING recently celebrated its 25th anniversary, Howe Green House continues to go from strength to strength.

Following inspection last November by the Independent Schools Inspectorate, the school was thrilled to be awarded 'excellent' in every category. A proactive governing board work with the headmaster to ensure the school continues to be in the forefront of education.

A rolling plan to develop and improve facilities means that a further seven acres has just been made available for sport. In February 2013 a new purpose-built junior building will open.

The existing junior classrooms will then be developed to provide a larger IT suite, library and art and craft rooms.

The headmaster, Graham Gorton, said: "This is an exciting new phase for our school as new teaching areas further enhance the provision whilst still retaining small classes with the family at the heart of the school's community."

A day to remember for Holly as an Olympic Games torchbearer

SAINT Nicholas School student Holly Lambert (12), pictured left, had been counting the days until July 7, 2012 with much excitement.

Not because it was the first day of the summer break from school, where she had just completed Year 7, but because this was the day she would play her part in the Olympic Torch relay on its historic journey around the UK.

Only the weekend before, Holly had proudly shown off the white and gold tracksuit to parents, governors and fellow pupils at the school's annual speech day.

Holly was one of only 212 12-year-olds nominated to take part in the torch relay and was a natural choice, not just because of her superb sporting skills but because of her fine example to fellow pupils at Saint Nicholas.

She was nominated by Edna Reilly, who teaches design technology. Holly, a talented gymnast, competed for Great Britain last year in the Gymnastrada festival of gymnastics in Switzerland where she joined gymnasts from all over the world. She trains in Epping with coach Carrie Bywater and represents her school in many of its sporting fixtures. Her attitude to all aspects of school life is exemplary.

Headmaster Keith Knight was delighted when Holly received the news of her successful nomination and the whole school community is extremely proud of their torchbearer.

Holly carried the torch 300 metres at Haverhill in Suffolk on the 50th day of its 70-day journey around the United Kingdom. She was cheered on by members of her proud family, classmates from her school and fellow gymnasts, who had been given a break from their training schedule.

It was smiles all round as Holly's torch was lit but the biggest smile was Holly's.

Typically of Holly, when asked how she had felt when holding the lighted torch, she simply beamed and replied that it was fantastic to see so many of her friends and family cheering her on. Holly will keep the torch in memory of her fantastic achievement and will be proudly showing it off at school and her gymnastics club over the coming weeks and months.

College helps to transform the ordinary into the extraordinary

FROM the very first moment children join Bishop's Stortford College they are surrounded by inspiring role-models who enable them to develop the same confidence and ability to transform the ordinary into the extraordinary.

In the words of one of our 2012 leavers: "Teachers exude an infectious passion, enthusiasm and appetite for learning, instilling in us the desire to succeed, the faith that we can achieve and the courage to push ourselves further, academically and in every aspect of our education."

A parent whose son joined the college last September commented: "Within a week of our son starting the differences we were seeing in him were astounding."

"He actively wants to do more and has just blossomed. We can't work out exactly what it is but there is just something in the atmosphere that makes learning and being involved natural rather than an effort or above the norm."

Visit the college to experience the vibrant and purposeful atmosphere for yourself and discover more about the outstanding education and opportunities provided at Bishop's Stortford College.

An all-round education

COOPERSALE Hall School is Epping's leading independent preparatory school for girls and boys from 2½-11 years of age.

With excellent results at 11+ for children entering selective senior schools, our small class sizes provide a personalised education and a friendly, family-orientated and nurturing environment.

Only two minutes from Epping Station, Coopersale Hall is ideally situated in rolling fields, with excellent facilities for all ages.

In addition to our academic subjects we feature over 40 before and after school clubs and activities. There is something for everyone, from languages to ball sports, fencing, golf, karate and yoga, and a full range of performing arts with music, dance and drama.

Following a rigorous

ISI inspection visit in June 2011, the school was given an excellent report full of praise for the all-round education provided for the children.

WIN A pair of first class return rail tickets for London and South East

HERE'S your chance to win a day out by train.

The Star has teamed up with National Rail to give five lucky competition winners first class return train travel for two people.

You and a friend could go sightseeing to one of London's numerous tourist attractions, explore historic castles, walk in the glorious countryside or enjoy a day out shopping!

Go to www.daysoutguide.co.uk for some ideas on great days out by train across the South East.

To enter, simply answer this question:

What is the name of the tallest building in western Europe that now dominates the London skyline?

To enter, visit our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk and click on the Competitions link under the 'Newspaper' tab. Be sure to enter 'Star National Rail' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted. The closing date for entries is noon on Wednesday, September 26.

Even if you are not one of the winners of this competition, you can still enjoy the benefits of great value train tickets.

Why not take advantage of the GroupSave offer where three or four people travel together for the price of two off-peak on the National Rail network in the London and South East area (see www.daysoutguide.co.uk for details and stations). In addition, up to four accompanying children (aged 5-15) can travel with the group for just £1 each.

Travelling by train is the best way to see London's attractions for less. There are more than 150 great 2FOR1 offers on London attractions, including restaurants and theatres, when you travel by train.

Choose from classics like the Tower of London or Madame Tussaud's or see London from a different angle by taking a river boat cruise. Plan your journey and download your 2FOR1 vouchers at www.daysoutguide.co.uk or pick up a 2FOR1 London leaflet from your local rail station.

Terms & Conditions

The prizes are pairs of first class return rail tickets to use on the National Rail network in the London and South East (see www.daysoutguide.co.uk for details and applicable stations). Please note, first class is not available on all routes and services. Accommodation, attraction tickets and travel expenses are not included in the prize. There is no prize or cash alternative.

Your stars with
to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Mercury moves, but this can be an entirely positive thing. Sharp edges and brittle vibes have done little for your peace of mind, and in its new location, it'll get easier to talk things through in a more objective way. This week also sees a fantastic angle between Venus and Jupiter, which can bring magic into your world, perhaps romantically. Call me now Aries for your love scope in full...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
Dig out that wardrobe, spare room or loft, there's almost certain to be something of value hiding there, even if it's a groovy pair of shoes you've forgotten about. The New Moon also gives your social situation a fab boost. Yet around your talents, to truly capitalise, do focus. Any love of home cooking could also see you play host, with great success. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
The move of your ruler, Mercury, sparks a more outward and confident you, and with lots of zesty links this can do wonders for your social situation. Any recent worries can start to fade, as you get back into the groove. Things can also move very quickly, which can call upon you to show one of your best qualities, to quickly think on your feet. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
This can be a better time for family affairs and gatherings, but it's important that you don't let any secret worries circulate. If you feel you are going inside of yourself, challenge this. Avoid seeming moody and remote. People will benefit from knowing where you stand. To you this might seem like confrontation, but it is healthier to air your feelings. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Venus in your sign, continues to confer extra stardust on you. Sound fanciful? Well, it is important that you don't let any secret worries circulate. If you feel you are going inside of yourself, challenge this. Avoid seeming moody and remote. People will benefit from knowing where you stand. To you this might seem like confrontation, but it is healthier to air your feelings. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
We can say things in the blink of an eye, but the influence of our words can reverberate long afterwards. Try to bear this in mind this week. Virgo, especially if a relative or your partner tests your patience. More prosaically, this is a time when you can make good progress around recent financial plans. Ingenuity and common sense will work wonders. Call for your financial scope in full...

One theatre, two dramatists and four one-act plays

TWO playwrights go back-to-back this month at the Victoria Hall Theatre in a celebration of the one-act play.

From tonight (Thursday) until Saturday, Andrew Prangnell presents a mix of comedy and drama with To Be Someone and The Last Dance while Simon Mawdsley offers up crime thrillers Housebound and Dead Wait next week.

Both have written and produced several plays in Harlow over the years (Prangnell – Sandcastles, Daily Bread, Skeletons; Mawdsley – Audacity, Painting By Numbers, Confetti) but this is the first time they have, unintentionally, decided to stage them so close together.

"It's like Blur and Oasis releasing singles at the same time!" said Simon.

There is, however, none of the antagonistic Britpop rivalry. The pair are good friends and have an enormous respect for each other's work.

"I think, if anything, it helps keep us on our toes and stops us becoming complacent," said Andrew. "We meet up quite regularly and talk about writing and how best to market our plays" Simon agreed: "It's great to be able to talk to someone who understands the process of writing a play, although we do always keep our new ideas quite close to our chests!"

● To Be Someone and The Last Dance open tonight (Thursday) and run until Saturday. Performances start at 7.30pm. Housebound and Dead Wait run from Wednesday (September 26) until Saturday (September 29), with performances starting at 8pm.

Tickets for both shows cost £10 (£8 concessions) from (01279) 420062.

AWARD-winning theatre group Global Productions ratchet up the tension in the intimate setting of the Playhouse Studio next week with a cautionary tale of money, greed and human obsession. Packed with thrills, spills and belly laughs, the company's production of Patrick Marber's acclaimed comedy drama Dealer's Choice invites the audience into the closed world of backroom poker, where the difference between redemption and damnation rests on the turn of a card.

"The bulk of the action may take place around the poker table, but this is far from sedentary," said director Michael Phillips. "In fact it's a real nailbiter."

"It's got a bit of everything, really – tension, suspense, drama and lots of laughs. And it's a play that will give the audience plenty of food for thought."

First performed in 1995, the play follows the misfortunes of East End restaurateur Stephen, who runs a regular Sunday-night poker game for his staff in the basement of his swanky eatery.

But when the group are joined by Stephen's wayward son, Carl, and a stranger claiming to be one of the youngster's former schoolteachers, it's not long before the restaurant owner finds himself locked in a high stakes game of heads-up with their mysterious guest – with the outcome ultimately resting on the toss of a coin.

"As a study of addiction and how it can drive people to deceit and desperation, it's very effective," said Michael.

"It's a personal favourite of the entire cast, who were so enthusiastic about putting on the production they all learned how to play poker in preparation for their roles!"

"This enthusiasm has really shone through in rehearsals, and by staging the production in the intimate surroundings of the Playhouse Studio we're confident that the audience will really feel part of the game as it unfolds."

● Dealer's Choice opens at The Playhouse Studio on Wednesday at 7.45pm and runs for three nights. Tickets cost between £15 and £16.50 (£13-£14.50 concessions) and can be purchased from (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Pitt the hit is a silent assassin

certificate 18, 1h37m

CRIME does pay and the price tag is your life in this slow-burning crime thriller based on the novel Cogan's Trade by George V Higgins.

Writer-director Andrew Dominik transplants the setting of the book from 1970s Boston to 2008 Louisiana, using the race for the White House between George W Bush and Barack Obama as a backdrop to the skulduggery.

Low-level crook Johnny Amato (Vincent Curatola) learns that mob man Markie Trattman (Ray Liotta) staged a robbery at one of his own card games in order to steal the pot. So Amato hatches a cunning plan to rob another card game and point the finger of suspicion squarely at Markie.

He hires Frankie (Scoot McNairy) to pull off the heist, and he in turn recruits unreliable junkie Russell (Ben Mendelsohn) as a second gun man.

Against the odds, Frankie and Russell manage to hold up the game card without accidentally shooting themselves or one of their hostages and they make off with the booty.

Mob go-between Driver (Richard Jenkins) calls in hitman Jackie Cogan (Brad Pitt) to identify the perpetrators and make them pay. Cogan is a killer who prefers to shoot his victims at long distance because he cannot stand the screaming and pleading of victims.

Naturally, Markie is the prime suspect for the robbery but Jackie likes to be thorough and he searches for other likely candidates, hiring another assassin, Mickey (James Gandolfini), to do the dirty work.

When Russell's drug-addled loose lips spill the beans about who really knocked off the card game, Jackie swiftly moves into action.

Killing Them Softly is punctuated with brilliantly orchestrated and stylish explosions of violence, including a breathtaking slow-motion car crash.

Pitt delivers a strong performance as the director delves deep into the psyches of men who operate on the wrong side of the law.

Indeed, the entire ensemble cast is in excellent form, including Gandolfini as a hit man who has allowed his penchant for booze and women to cloud his killing instinct.

Unlike other film-makers who are in a hurry to get to the action set-pieces, Dominik allows conversations to breathe; veiled threats hang in the air, murderous glances are held uncomfortably long and every scene crackles with tension. And we teeter nervously on the edge of our seats for the entire 97 minutes.

>>still on screen

THE SWEENEY DI Jack Regan (Ray Winstone) and sidekick George Carter (Ben Drew) are on the trail of a gang of wily European thieves led by slippery Francis Allen (Paul Anderson). After apprehending Allen, the team cannot find sufficient evidence to charge him and are forced to let him go after hours of intense questioning. Tensions within the department explode when internal affairs officer Ivan Lewis (Steve Mackintosh) embarks on a personal crusade to bring down Regan, who just happens to be bedding Lewis's wife Nancy (Hayley Atwell). Section chief Frank Haskins (Damian Lewis) protects his team in the Flying Squad as much as he can, but IA clearly has a vendetta and will stop at nothing until the team is disbanded and Regan languishes behind bars.

LAWLESS In the mountains of Franklin County the local cops turn a blind eye to the illegal activities of Forrest Bondurant (Tom Hardy) and his siblings Howard (Jason Clarke) and Jack (Shia LaBeouf). The brothers run a successful bar and eke out a comfortable living by trading moonshine made at secret distilleries maintained by Jack's disabled pal, Cricket (Dane DeHaan). But the siblings' business empire threatens to crumble when sadistic Special Deputy Charley Rakes (Guy Pearce) arrives from Chicago on a mission to shut down the distilleries at the behest of district attorney Mason Wardell (Tim Tolin). As young love blossoms between Jack and preacher's daughter Bertha Minnix (Mia Wasikowska), Rakes sets about dismantling the brothers' operation from the inside, targeting weak links including dancer Maggie Beauford (Jessica Chastain).

HOPE SPRINGS Arnold Soames (Tommy Lee Jones) and his wife Kay (Meryl Streep) celebrate their latest wedding anniversary by buying each other cable television subscriptions. The couple's children Brad (Ben Rappaport) and Molly (Marin Ireland) sense all is not well, but Arnold appears unconcerned, content to stick to the same routines and sleep in a separate room to his wife. Kay is deeply unhappy and in desperation uses her savings to buy a series of intensive couples counselling sessions with Dr Bernie Feld (Steve Carell), who runs the courses from his offices in coastal Maine.

PARANORMAN (3D & 2D) When a small town comes under siege by zombies, who are you going to call? Well if you've got any sense it will be misunderstood local boy Norman (voiced by Kodi Smit-McPhee), who speaks with the dead and is told by deranged uncle Prenderghast (John Goodman) he is the only person who can save the town from a centuries-old witch's curse. Before long this young ghoul whisperer finds his paranormal activities pushed to their otherworldly limits.

BRAVE (2D only) Determined to make her own path in life, Princess Merida (voiced by Kelly Macdonald) defies a custom that brings chaos to her kingdom. Granted one wish, Merida must rely on her bravery and her archery skills to undo a beastly curse.

JENNIFER Lawrence takes time out from the Hunger Games series to play a young woman in peril in Mark Tonderai's nail-biting horror.

Sarah (Elisabeth Shue) is still smarting from an acrimonious divorce and she moves into a new house in an idyllic rural town with her pretty daughter, Elissa (Lawrence).

The family home is perfect and the locals seem lovely, but then strange events begin to happen and Sarah and Elissa learn that the house next door was once a murder scene.

A young woman killed her parents there and left her brother, Ryan (Max Thieriot), as the sole survivor of the carnage. Sarah is understandably reluctant to allow Elissa to forge a friendship with Ryan but her daughter is drawn to the recluse, venturing into the house stained by the blood of the past.

Behind locked doors lie terrifying secrets and Elissa quickly realises that unspeakable evil lurks within her neighbourhood.

Deciding On Price (Part One)

Whatever anyone might say about location, condition, proximity to schools, size, etc., it is the price at which a property is initially marketed that is the key to a successful sale.

But emotions often cloud good judgement. The chance to secure a high price can prompt sellers to quote too much, and the house then misses the early buyer activity that is most likely to produce a sale. Quote too little and the resulting immediate sale can fuel resentment as you might feel you could have sold for more.

So the heart must not rule the head here. You may have put a lot of time, love and money into the property and naturally you want your asking price to reflect this. Maybe you need a certain amount to secure another property, or you simply want to track national house-price trends. Perhaps you are taking your guide from a similar property that has recently sold nearby.

However, the only thing that really counts is the supply of able buyers in relation to the supply of comparable properties, and what those buyers are prepared to pay in view of such competition. Local estate agents are the only people who have a handle on both. Armed with this information your agent can make an informed recommendation as to an asking price that will maximise your chances of selling at an attractive figure within a realistic timescale. (See part two next week)

If you are considering selling your property and would like a carefully considered and qualified view of the likely sale price of your property in the current market, then please feel free to contact us on 01279 444988.

SINCE the rise of the recent downsizing trend, adding value to small car platforms has become key to securing sales.

Ford hopes its new B-Max compact people carrier will tempt buyers from both sides of the financial fence with its mix of practicality, kit, looks and clever sliding rear doors.

The preceding years have seen Ford become increasingly proactive in developing interesting technology. The B-Max certainly fulfills this notion.

Rear sliding doors are hardly a new concept but they are on something this small. We've seen them on big MPVs for years and the main benefits are well known: ease of use and the ability to access and egress the car in tight spaces. Why shouldn't small cars be any different?

Ford has taken the concept a step further, however, by ditching the conventional fixed B-pillar in favour of incorporating it in the doors themselves. When shut, the doors' inbuilt strength and strategically placed locking points on the body deliver comparable rigidity and crash protection to a regular car.

The B-Max is more than just a pair of fancy sliding doors, though. The car has been engineered with fold flat rear seats and a fold forward front passenger seat to enable long or bulky items to be carried with little effort. That the respective folding mechanisms are of the one-hand variety adds to the car's appeal.

The flexible boot floor liberates even more space for valuables, which is further proof of the car's family-friendly credentials.

Space inside the cabin is also generous, with ample head and legroom both fore and aft. Children might be more regular rear seat passengers than adults but you're unlikely to hear complaints from the latter even on long journeys.

Up front the B-Max's layout boasts numerous similarities with the Fiesta and Focus, which ensures that everything is close to hand and the various main controls and displays are intuitive and easy to operate respectively. This trickledown approach also extends to the availability of new kit such as keyless entry and ignition plus an auto stop city braking system designed to minimize low speed accidents.

Worth an extra mention is Ford's SYNC technology which combines Bluetooth, phone and music player connectivity along with voice control, phone message handling and an SOS function linked to a response service.

Clearly the B-Max has a lot going for it. In the MPV market the focus is usually on a car's versatility and practicality. Unfortunately it's often at the expense of driving ability which is why most tin boxes disappoint. Not so the B-Max and it's the final reason why Ford's small people carrier deserves to be in the spotlight.

Maintaining the current downsizing trend and following the Focus, the B-Max gets Ford's innovative three-cylinder, 1.0-litre petrol engine. Tested in 120 horsepower guise (there's also a 100 horsepower option) it offers a good balance of performance, economy and modest CO² output.

In high power trim it easily copes with a fully loaded car and is capable of maintaining motorway speeds without complaint.

More familiar petrol and diesel motors complete the B-Max's line-up in 1.4 guise and a 1.5 and 1.6 pairing respectively. That last unit is also an agreeable performer and although it offers a torque performance to aid progress up hills, there's no denying that Ford's EcoBoost-branded three-pot petrol engine is a star performer.

The biggest surprise is the way the B-Max drives, however. For a tallish compact people carrier there is very little pitch and roll when on the move, while the various controls – brakes, steering, gearshift – possess a weighty accuracy that's missing from rivals.

In short, the B-Max drives like a regular, well-sorted family hatchback.

Only this shouldn't really be a surprise given Ford's form since it introduced the very first Focus. A refined yet engaging driving experience has been a common trait of all cars since that landmark launch.

And such attributes combined with the B-Max's practical, spacious and high quality cabin plus those sliding doors conspire to make the B-Max the standout choice in the market.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF: B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Regulation 9 Infrastructure Planning (Applications: Prescribed Forms and Procedure) Regulations 2009

NOTICE OF ACCEPTANCE OF APPLICATION FOR A DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER

("DCO") BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Planning Inspectorate Reference: EN010046

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of State has accepted an application by Veolia Environmental Services (UK) Plc (the "Applicant") of 8th Floor, 210 Pentonville Road, London, N1 9JY for a DCO under the Planning Act 2008 (the "Application"). The Application was submitted by the Applicant to the Secretary of State, via the Planning Inspectorate, on 14 August 2012 and was accepted on 07 September 2012. The Planning Inspectorate reference number for the Application is EN010046.

The Project

The Application seeks consent for the construction and operation of the Fieldes Lock Power Station and associated development (the "Project"). The power station will produce electricity from a combination of natural gas and Solid Recovered Fuel (and/or similar residual waste) predominantly by rail but also by road. It will have a nominal gross electrical output of 54.5 Mega Watts.

The DCO Application Boundary comprises land that, for the purposes of this Application, is described as the 'Site' and land that is described as 'Other DCO Land'.

The Site is located at land off Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire EN11 0RF and covers an area of approximately 5.6 hectares, currently occupied by an aggregates depot and rail sidings. The Site is adjacent to the existing Rye House Power Station and to the West Anglia Main Line railway. At its closest point, the Site boundary is within a few metres of the River Lee. Road access to the south of the Site is via Ratty's Lane, which leads to the A10 via Essex Road and Danant Link Road. The Other DCO Land adjoins the Site and comprises Ratty's Lane, part of St. Martins Road, part of Essex Road, land adjacent to Essex Road and an area of towpath and channel of the River Lee.

The Nationally Significant Infrastructure Project (NSIP) is located on the Site. The components of the NSIP are listed below.

Components of the NSIP (on the Site):

- Demolition of existing buildings and structures.
- A road-reception transfer bunker, a fuel storage bunker and an automated two grab crane system to move fuel from the storage bunker to supply the combustion process lines.
- A boiler hall with two combustion process lines.
- A separate gas boiler to superheat the steam.
- A turbine hall where superheated steam is fed into the condensing turbo generator.
- Water treatment equipment.
- Fire tanks and pump house.
- A Flue Gas Treatment System including storage silos for delivery and storage of materials used for treatment and silos for storage of flue gas treatment residues.
- A Conveyor system to transfer bottom ash into an enclosed storage hall for transfer off-site.
- One stack for discharge of flue gas from the gas superheater.
- Two standby power generators with associated equipment and stacks.
- Twin chimney stacks rising from the main building for discharge of the cleaned flue gases.
- Air Cooled Condensers.
- An enclosed tipping hall for fuel to be received by road incorporating the road reception transfer bunker.
- A facility to enable steam pass outs and/or hot water pass outs; and/or carbon dioxide pass outs and/or flue gas pass outs providing a Combined Heat and Power ready design to enable beneficial use of heat, that could be provided (as part of a subsequent consent application) via a related Heat Network.
- An administration/visitor centre.

Development associated with the NSIP (Associated Development) is located on the Site and on the Other DCO Land, as listed below.

Associated Development on the Site:

- Weighbridges,
- Car parking and cycle storage facilities.
- Storm water attenuation pond.
- Landscaping works including flood compensation storage.
- Gate house.
- Internal roadways and the provision of footpaths, cycleways and footpath linkages.
- A sustainable drainage system.
- Demolition of existing buildings and structures.
- Modifications to the existing spur and signalling.
- Modifications to the existing rail sidings and construction of a platform.
- Two automated overhead cranes with supporting structure and screen, including tipping devices for the transfer of containers from the overhead cranes to the SRF bunker.
- Natural gas compound (conditioning and metering facilities) to supply gas to the Facility.
- Electrical step-up transformers and substation for export of electricity to the national grid.
- A utility connection trench containing high or medium pressure gas pipes, 132kV electrical cables, domestic water pipe, sewage pipe and telecoms apparatus, commencing at the main building and running in a southerly direction along the rail sidings.
- Construction laydown areas and any temporary structures required for construction.
- Site fencing.

Associated Development on the Other DCO Land:

- Utility connection trenches containing medium pressure gas pipes, 132kV electrical cables, domestic water pipe, sewage pipe and telecoms apparatus, including connections to the UK Power Networks 132kV Substation at Rye House and to the existing National Grid medium pressure distribution system at the junction of Essex Road and Dobbs Weir Road.
- Upgrading and improvement of Ratty's Lane and access to and from Ratty's Lane including introducing traffic management measures, resurfacing, installation of street furniture and fencing and resurfacing Ratty's Lane car park.
- A surface water outfall to River Lee connected to the Site's sustainable drainage system.
- The provision of footpaths, cycleways and footpath linkages.
- Construction laydown areas and any temporary structures required for the construction of the above works.

The Application also seeks the following authorisation for the Project:

- The permanent and/or temporary compulsory acquisition (if required) of land and/or rights for the Project;
- The overriding of easements and other rights over or affecting land for the Project;
- The application and/or discontinuation of legislation relevant to the Project; and
- Such ancillary, incidental and consequential works, permits, consents or provisions as are necessary for the Project.

Environmental Impact Assessment

The Project constitutes "EIA development" for the purposes of the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009. This means that it constitutes development for which Environmental Impact Assessment is required. Therefore, an Environmental Statement accompanied the Application.

SOS to Brisbane Road results in cup G'day

BRENTWOOD TN 0, HARLOW TN 0
FA TROPHY, SECOND QUALIFYING ROUND

By ALAN SCOTT
reports from The Arena, Brentwood

PAUL West-Hook paid tribute to Leyton Orient after Russell Slade's League One club came to depleted Harlow Town's rescue in Saturday's FA Trophy tie.

Shorn of their injured defensive quartet: experienced centre-half Danny Brown, young defender Liam Thomas and full-backs Mark Taylor and Donny Barnard, Harlow Town sent an SOS to Brisbane Road.

This resulted in the cavalry arriving in the shape of 17-year-old central defenders Sean Grace and De'reece Vanderhyde.

Their performances bode well – for Orient's future at least!

"The Leyton Orient players were excellent. We cannot thank them enough," said Hawks assistant boss West-Hook. "Sean showed maturity beyond his years."

Hawks – who rued an early penalty miss in the first half from striker Piers Wixon – held on despite a second-half onslaught from Brentwood, a complete contrast to the first period.

Grace and Vanderhyde showed composure which belied their tender years throughout.

Add into the mix that central midfielder Getro Kilapi is continuing to deputise at right-back, and it was surprising how much Harlow dominated in the first half despite this makeshift defence.

SPOT OF BOTHER: Harlow Town striker Piers Wixon missed a penalty on Saturday which ultimately proved costly (HSP0820079)

Harlow gave a debut to ex-

Chesham left winger Joe O'Donogue (18), who has signed permanently. He has Orient connections and can also operate as

Harlow started well and won a penalty on 15 minutes.

Striker Jeff Hammond was brought down by Darren Blewitt, who escaped with a yellow card. But Wixon's penalty was awful and Elliott Justham made an easy save low to his left.

Harlow created a succession of chances but there was some wasteful finishing from Wixon and strike partner Hammond.

New boy Grace had a free header on 35 minutes after O'Donogue's corner was flicked on. It seemed easier to score but the young defender completely missed the target.

Brentwood had the ball in the net when Abs Seymour struck, but this was controversially ruled out for offside on 39 minutes. The hosts were aggrieved and later claimed a Harlow defender was playing Seymour onside.

It was mainly all Brentwood after the break and Hawks were thankful to a couple of outstanding saves from French keeper Bert Bossu.

One point-blank stop from Greg Cohen was superb on 66 minutes.

The hosts struck the woodwork on 88 minutes when sub Alex Read's shot from inside the box clipped a post.

Brentwood sub Sherwin Stanley could have won it at the end but his rasping shot from inside the box forced another great save from Bossu.

"We could have been 2-0 up at half-time on Saturday," added West-Hook.

Commenting on O'Donogue's debut, he said: "He needs to get fitter and I think he could play higher. He has the ability."

HARLOW TN: BOSSU 8, Kilapi 6, Gill 6, Vanderhyde 7, Grace 7, Muguo 6, Cass 6 (Manuel 61), Levett 7, Hammond 7, Wixon 5 (Jacobs 86), O'Donogue 7 (Deaney 90). Subs not used: Knight, Tamai (gk). Att: 137.

Dan takes junior title and record

HARLOW Running Club member Daniel Jephcott was fastest junior in the very hilly Ingatestone 5-mile race in Essex.

The youngster clocked a superb time of 35 minutes and 7 seconds for 54th overall – a new HRC junior (U-20) record.

Jamie Jephcott broke his five-mile personal best time at this event.

He finished in 15th place in an excellent 30.27.

He was followed home by club-mate John Tennant, Tennant was in 40th place and was second veteran 60 in 33.39.

Meanwhile, at the Clavering 10K multi-terrain race, Jon Steadman was 14th out of 115 finishers in 45:39. He was followed home by Matt Jones (28th, 48:17), Sharon Wright (30th and 3rd lady, 48:51), David Page (51st, 52:37) and Janice Page (52nd in 52:40).

Northolt win Wally Day Cup in Ric of time!

DEBUTANT Ric Montebello grabbed a hat-trick as Northolt FC defeated Avondale Rangers reserves 3-0 to win the Wally Day Memorial Cup.

The striker was playing his first game for Northolt and the cup was between last season's division one cup winners (Avondale Rangers reserves) and division one winners (Northolt) in a curtain raiser to the Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League season.

Northolt manager Gerry Gill said: "They play so well together as a team and always give their best out. I feel privileged to manage the team."

In the premier division, an Aaron Bowden hat-trick could not prevent Alemite Athletic reserves losing 4-3 at home to Avondale Rangers.

New division one team, Bishop's Stortford-based EF Lakers, drew 2-2 at Birchanger thanks to goals from Charlie Tansley and Aaron Tansley.

Isaac Addo (2), Dan Moran, Ben Simmons and Alfie White netted when Lower Street thrashed Albury 5-1 at home.

Other results:- prem div: Northolt 5 (Ric Montebello 2, Luke Sutton 2, Joe Mariutto), Langley Rangers 0; Harbridge Ath (Stefan Baladeck) 1, Parsloe Ath 5.

Div one: Avondale Rangers res 3, Fairways Corinthians 2 (Sam Scott, Michael Earley); North Weald 1 (Matt Clark), Sheering res 1; Potter Street 1, Hatfield Heath 5.

'I'll get Hawks back on track'

>>Continued from back Harlow started brightly but missed two golden chances in the opening period. Striker Tony Jacobs fired straight at Brentwood keeper Elliott Justham from eight yards after being teed up by Jeff Hammond. Moments later, Hammond wasted another chance, shooting straight at Justham. The rebound fell to Jacobs but his goalbound shot was cleared by Brentwood defender Sam West. Chapman lamented: "We started really well in the first 20 or 25 minutes. You cannot miss chances like that and win football matches. If you go 2-0 up you have a fantastic chance." Brentwood went 1-0 up when the unmarked Danny Dafer scored with a tap-in on 23 minutes at the far post. This was after a quickly taken free-kick by Ryan Doyle released Steve Butterworth down the right and he found Dafer at the second attempt. Shortly after, Hawks keeper Bertrand Bossu kept out a Butterworth effort with a brilliant save before Alex Read made it 2-0 to Brentwood on 51 minutes when he shot from the left into the far corner.

Dafer fired in a second on 72 minutes after his initial header was well blocked by Bossu, but the midfielder drilled in the rebound. Sherwin Stanley fired in the fourth on 89 minutes when a through ball from substitute Abs Thompson exposed Harlow's flat back four.

Chapman added: "All their goals were from defensive errors. They were bad goals. For the second one, Getro [Kilapi] should have cleared into row Z and their third one was a basic one."

HARLOW TN: BOSSU 7, Kilapi 5, Gill 4, Muguo 5, Grace 6, Wixon 4, Manuel 5, Levett 5 (Knight 82), Hammond 4, Jacobs 4 (Cass 75), O'Donogue 5 (Deaney 70). Sub not used: Tami (gk). Att: 93.

Gamesmakers will cherish memory of 2012

BEING Gamesmakers at the London 2012 Olympics will live long in the memory for two keen athletes from Harlow.

Harlow Athletic Club members Isobel Moss (16) and Tyler Bown (18) volunteered to be Gamesmakers at the Olympics.

Isobel was pictured alongside Harlow's Andrew Osagie as he warmed up for one of his 800metres races at the magnificent stadium in Stratford.

Teenagers Isobel and ex-Mark Hall School pupil Tyler went on to be chosen as kit carriers for competing Olympians from around the world.

The pair carried kit for several final events, including the men's 1,500m final and women's 4x400m relay final.

However, the highlight for them had to be the 800m semi-final in which Harlow's Osagie came second in 1 min, 44.74 secs.

Osagie subsequently came 8th in the final, but registered a personal best time of 1:43.77.

A thrilled Isobel, a former student at Passmores Academy, said: "I was so excited; I couldn't believe that I was there. The atmosphere was so overwhelming. The noise from the crowd cheering increased threefold when a member of Team GB was competing – it was deafening." She added: "It was amazing to see Andrew [Osagie] qualify for the final, something that inspired and will live with me forever."

ON YOUR MARKS: Isobel Moss, a Gamesmaker and kit carrier at London 2012, is pictured alongside Andrew Osagie as he prepares for the 800metres semi-final at the Olympics

Kids shine in quad contest

CREDITABLE performances came from the home athletes when Harlow Athletic Club played host to an Essex Network Quad Kids event.

It was the final competition of the season and children up to 13 years of age took part in four events.

Times and distances equated to points which are converted into 'steps' on the Quad Kids Challenge.

Two U-13 athletes, Kayesha Robinson and Claudia Andrews, achieved a bronze award as a result of their performances.

The pick of their events was a tremendous tussle in the 600m, in which Kayesha (2 minutes, 3 seconds) shaded Claudia (2:06) on the line.

In the other events, Kayesha clocked 11.4s in the 75m, leapt 2.81metres in the long jump and threw 14.36m in the soft javelin.

In the U-11 group, three athletes achieved the silver standard.

Evan Conboy's best event was when he threw 33.47m in the soft javelin throw.

He clocked 12.0s in the 75m, leapt 1.77m in the long jump and clocked 2:06 in the 600m.

Francis Moore ran an impressive 12.1 secs in the 75m sprint. He also recorded 1.77m in the long jump, 2:12 in the 600m and 32.53m in the soft javelin.

Madelaine Blackburn's best performance came in the 600m when she clocked 2:05.

She also completed the 75m in 12.1s, leapt 1.67m in the long jump and threw 11.80m in the soft javelin.

Another notable performance in this age group came from Jack Wood-Bargent who leapt an impressive 2.03m in the standing long jump.

In the U-9 section, Regan Lawrence performed impressively and his time of 8.8 secs in the 50m sprint marks him out as one for the future.

Harlow AC youth team manager, Steve Lott, said: "It's great to see that our youngest athletes, just below formal competition age, are developing nicely too.

"Credit must be given to working with the athletes in the years to come."

Other Harlow AC results: U-11 - Zoe Rutter 75m 13.8s, long jump 1.59m, 600m 2:18s; soft javelin 13.20m; Alfie Attrill 75m 13.0s, long jump 1.50m, 600m 2:20, soft javelin 26.93m; Jack Wood-Bargent 75m 12.4s, long jump 2.03m, 600m 2:36, soft javelin 21.20m; Caitlin Walker 75m 14.7s, long jump 1.61m, 600m 2:39, soft javelin 10.05m; Joshua Williams 75m 13.7s, long jump 1.50m, 600m 2:39, soft javelin 12.10m; Millie Siggers 75m 15.1s, long jump 1.43m, 600m 2:45, soft javelin 8.43m; Lewis Easton 75m 13.4s, long jump 1.56m, 600m 2:45, soft javelin 11.23m.

Solid start to season with stalemate

HARLOW 1
SAFFRON WALDEN III 1
EAST MEN'S HOCKEY LEAGUE,
DIV FOUR SOUTH EAST

A WEAKENED Harlow side recovered from a disastrous start against newly-promoted Saffron Walden thirds to gain a point at home in their opening league game.

Harlow were missing five players through injury and unavailability.

New skipper James Smith called upon experienced keeper Neil Boughtwood and some young blood from the second team in outfield positions.

The hosts went behind in the first minute.

Walden's forward was allowed too much time and space to get his smart reverse-stick shot on target.

Harlow rallied and for the next 15 minutes had the upper hand.

The continued pressure finally told when a four-player move saw Cyrus Mace pick out Andy Boughtwood who finished from four yards, making it 1-1.

Walden should have regained the lead just before the half-time break but a last second lunge from Smith just did enough to put off the advancing forward who had the whole goal at his mercy.

The second half was a close encounter with both sides sharing possession without creating many chances.

Harlow had the best opportunity to take all three points.

However, Rhys Mace's last touch was off of his head rather than his stick after the ball had been deflected up of the Walden goalkeeper.

The resulting penalty corner also ended with the ball in the net but Smith's shot was too high and was correctly ruled out for being dangerous.

The game fizzled out in the heat and both teams were happy to share a point at the final whistle.

Golden Swift shared the points 4-4 with Paringdon Social Club. Swift's Russell Foxwell went top of the outshots with a 137 finish.

Staple Tye Colts won 8-0 at home to Buccaneers and Tye Green Foxes beat Crusader 6-2.

Sydes on top of the World

Karate instructor seals England call-up

By ALAN SCOTT
Sports Editor
alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

KARATE instructor Chelsea Sydes is celebrating after being picked to represent her country in this year's World Championship.

It will be the first time, 23-year-old Sydes – who became a black belt holder at the tender age of 11 – has competed at the World Champs, which will take place in the French capital Paris from November 21.

For Sydes, who has run karate classes at Mulberry Hall in Old Harlow for the last three years, it will be the first time she has represented England in a major competition and fulfils her lifetime ambition.

She competed in gruelling national trials in July before discovering she had earned her call-up to the 10-person squad.

"It's been hard work leading up to this but this is just the beginning this being my first major competition for England a medal would be a massive achievement," she said.

Sydes, who also runs karate classes at High Wych Memorial Hall, will also represent England in a preparation event for the World Champs in Montenegro this autumn.

Having progressed from a Midlands training event earlier this summer, she was put through to further trials in Wigan.

Former Leventhorpe School student Sydes was then asked to attend a final qualifying session in Aylesbury, Buckinghamshire on September 9 and from there she achieved her goal of making the England team for the World Champs. "In Aylesbury where I had to perform well again to guarantee being selected for the national team," she said.

Sydes paid tribute to her coach, Daniel Hollister, after making the team.

"My coach, Daniel Hollister, the chief instructor of Lea Valley Karate Academy has been a great help in preparing me for the selection due to him already representing England, his experience and knowledge has helped me achieve this," she said.

Sydes took up the sport 17 years ago. She explained: "I started karate at the age of six and reached black belt status at the age of 11, training three times to five times a week.

I've won numerous national titles as a junior and cadet and have continued to compete at a high level.

"I train and teach for the Lea Valley Karate Academy where two other instructors represent England which has been a great aid in my training, being able to train with the best in the country.

"The hardest part about my training and competing is the fact we receive no funding whatsoever and training or competitions I attend is all self-funded.

"I'm lucky because the club I'm apart of runs a 'not for profit' side which helps out with some costs but both myself and the club are always seeking sponsors."

If you can help or are interested in learning karate, contact Sydes at www.lvka.co.uk or on 0754583389.

Pumas on prowl for silverware

FRONTIERS Youth Pumas U-9s are celebrating after winning the Essex Royals tournament in Wickford.

The Harlow-based West Essex & East Herts Youth League outfit played six games in total, conceding just one goal.

After four 20-minute matches in an initial group stage, Pumas finished as runner-up in the pool.

This took the Pumas through to the semi-finals where they played Dagenham.

This was a close match, but Frontiers went through to the final with a 1-0 triumph.

In the final, Pumas were up against

Bloomfield, a very strong side out of the Chelmsford League.

After a goalless 20 minutes, six minutes of extra-time was played.

However, this could still not separate the two teams and the match went into a penalty shoot-out.

Pumas won this 6-5 to secure the trophy.

Manager David Leader said: "Pumas should be proud of what a strong team they are – in 6 games they only conceded 1 goal. This was a great achievement as it was such a high standard. Well Done Frontiers Pumas U-9s."

Injury-hit Rams cut down in opener

WISBECH 43,
HARLOW 7
RFU LONDON DIV THREE
NORTH EAST

A CONSIDERABLE improvement is needed from the Rams if they are to beat Norwich in their first home league match this Saturday. This comes after Harlow were thrashed in their league opener at newly-promoted Wisbech five days ago.

Wisbech ran at every opportunity and scored six tries, although Harlow were handicapped by injuries to key players.

Veteran forward Paul Eynon (Achilles tendon) and scrum half Rhys Powell (rib injury) were injured in the first period before full back Rob Mackie sustained a similar injury to Powell's in the second half.

Powell bravely came back on after Mackie went off injured, but Powell went off a second time when his rib injury was too much to bear.

Harlow, including debutant lock John Unwin, opened the scoring on 17 minutes.

A three-man move ended with Mackie scoring under the posts. Danny Smith kicked the conversion.

Things then started to go wrong for Harlow.

Eynon and Powell went off injured with winger Will Grimley going to scrum half and the hosts struck back with slick passing setting up the Cambridgeshire side's left wing Joe Barford who touched down. Mike Laws converted.

Harlow then paid for a lack of concentration at a 5metre scrum when the last play of the first half saw Tom Martell score an unconverted try for a 12-7 home lead.

Just after the break, Smith narrowly missed a long-range penalty.

Wisbech increased their lead on 55 minutes. A centre kicked over and collected his own kick to score and Laws converted. Laws put the hosts 22-7 ahead with a penalty.

Harlow conceded a fourth try in the 69th minute when Barford touched down a second time and Laws converted.

'I'll get Hawks back on track'

Boss confident he can lift struggling side

UNDER-fire Hawks boss Danny Chapman has pledged to get Harlow Town back on track after early exits from both the FA Cup and FA Trophy.

Harlow have won two out of four games in Ryman League division one north, but the cup defeats mean the Hawks have been denied a vital money-spinning injection.

Chapman, pictured left, says his hands are tied by a limited budget and a lengthy injury list.

He said: "You have to go back two seasons to when I took over. We play the same [formation] as when we got to the play-offs and then last year we came 7th.

"People can scream about it. I do not question myself in the way we play."

He added: "I do not feel under any pressure. It's up to the players to take responsibility.

"If they cannot [perform], I will get players that can."

After the 4-0 FA Trophy debacle against Brentwood on Tuesday, the Hawks boss was unhappy with some of his defenders. He said: "You can ask people what their jobs are beforehand and if they say 'yes' and do something else, that gets my back up."

Chapman is acutely aware of how raw people felt on Tuesday after the heavy loss.

He said: "Nobody likes getting beaten 4-0 but we cannot change the result. We have to get on with it.

"It's not easy when you have your first choice centre-half partnership out and you have two central mid-field players playing out of position."

Harlow have four key defenders injured at the moment, including influential player-coach Danny Brown.

Chapman added: "Once we get people back things will change. We have to do the best we can at the moment.

"People can say you can just go out and get other players, but it is not as easy as that. It has to be the right one."

Chapman is without the key presence of Brown for the next month as he has a medial ligament problem in his knee, while central defender Liam Thomas is due to have an MRI scan on a groin injury today (Thursday).

Skipper and right-back Donny Barnard (groin) is also ruled out for another few weeks, but Mark Taylor (hamstring) and left-back Connor Cranmer (hamstring) should return and be in the squad for the Ryman League division one north clash away to Waltham Forest at Ilford FC next Wednesday.

Midfielder Albert Levitt limped off after a bad challenge on him in the second half against Brentwood on Tuesday.

It was initially feared to be a bad injury, but after examination physio and assistant boss Paul West-Hook said it was just bruising.

Chapman said: "The club did not suit him. There are no hard feelings and I wish him all the best."

Case 'four' a defence after cup debacle

THE Hawks suffered a terrible defeat when they were thrashed at home by Ryman division one north rivals Brentwood Town in their FA Trophy replay, writes DAVID RIMMER.

Admittedly Harlow Town were weakened by injuries, but this could not excuse their failure to take chances or making basic defensive errors.

Tuesday's defeat means Harlow have been knocked out in the first hurdle of both the FA Trophy and the FA Cup. Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "It's disappointing as these cups bring revenues into the club and Tuesday night hurt everybody [at the club]."

On-loan Leyton Orient centre-half Sean

Grace (17), played again for the Hawks, but 17-year-old De'reece Vanderhyde, who also shone in the goalless draw at Brentwood on Saturday, could not play as Orient wanted him for a reserves match last night (Wednesday).

Midfielder Stanley Muguo was switched to centre-half as Hawks looked to solve their defensive crisis. Clearly this didn't work.
